Pardee employees build house for Habitat for Humanity

(Hendersonville, N.C.) Pardee employees joined Habitat for Humanity to build a house for a family in need October 1.

Over 50 employees and their spouses participated in building the house that took most of the day to complete. Neighboring families in the community also helped and showed their support. The house is now located in Shuey Knolls Subdivision near Edneyville.

“This was a way for Pardee employees to help a family get a new start and the satisfaction that comes from being a part of a project that is so important to our community. Habitat for Humanity is a wonderful group of people making a positive influence on Henderson County. Alan Stissel, site facilitator for the project, was fantastic as a leader for our group. Projects like this one are what Pardee is all about, we are all a part of the community and we love to give back to the community in many ways,” said Tim Auwarter, director of Director of Rehab Services at Pardee Hospital.

Habitat for Humanity builds homes for families who are living in inadequate conditions through community outreach with businesses and volunteers. The organization accepts applications for families in need of housing as well as members of the community who would like to donate their time to help. To apply for housing needs or to volunteer, please visit www.habitat-hvl.org.

Pardee Hospital is a not-for-profit community hospital founded in 1953. The main hospital is licensed for 222 acute care beds and is the second largest employer in Henderson County. The hospital has several locations separate from the main campus, including an adult day services center, a health education center in the Blue Ridge Mall, home care services, a rehab and wellness center, a midwifery program, various family and internal medicine practices, and an urgent care facility.
