Pardee nurses receive certification in Medical-Surgical Nursing

(Hendersonville, N.C.) Christy Parkhill, RN, BSN, BC, and Susan Lyda, RN, BS BA, BC, both received national certification in Medical-Surgical Nursing from the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC).

Parkhill has been employed with Pardee for 18 years and works as a night shift nursing supervisor. She received her Bachelor of Science in Nursing from the University of Phoenix in 2010 where she graduated with honors and was inducted into Sigma Theta Tau International, an honor society for nurses.

Lyda has been employed with Pardee for 17 years and works as a weekend nursing supervisor. She received her ADN from Blue Ridge Community College and her BS BA from Mars Hill.

The Medical-Surgical Nursing Certification indicates that a Registered Nurse is specialized in caring for patients with acute or chronic diseases, and for patients who require post-operative care. The American Nurses Credentialing Center is an internationally renowned credentialing organization that certifies nurses in specialty practice areas.
