Pardee Welcomes Spine Surgeon John Hicks

(Hendersonville, NC) Pardee Hospital is proud to announce that John Hicks, M.D., an orthopaedic surgeon, recently joined its medical staff, and is currently accepting new patients at Blue Ridge Bone & Joint in Hendersonville.

Hicks received his medical degree from the University of South Carolina School of Medicine in Columbia, S.C. He completed his internship at the University of Tennessee Department of Surgery in Memphis, Tenn. Hicks completed his residency in orthopaedic surgery at the Campbell Clinic in Memphis, Tenn., and completed a combined orthopaedic and neurosurgical spine surgery fellowship at the University of Virginia in Charlottesville, Va.

Hicks specializes in spinal disorders and surgery as well as general orthopaedic surgery. He has special interests in spinal degenerative disease, lumbar and cervical stenosis, minimally invasive care and fracture management.

Hicks recently moved to the area with his wife and two-year old son. An outdoor enthusiast, he enjoys backpacking, kayaking, running, cycling and fishing.

“My focus will be treating spine pathology to maximize patients’ function,” said Hicks. “I look forward to getting involved with the community and practicing at Pardee Hospital’s nationally recognized orthopaedics center.”

Pardee Hospital is a not-for-profit community hospital founded in 1953. The main hospital is licensed for 222 acute care beds and is the second largest employer in Henderson County. The hospital has several locations separate from the main campus, including an adult day services center, a health education center in the Blue Ridge Mall, home care services, a rehab and wellness center, a midwifery program, various family and internal medicine practices, and an urgent care facility.
