Pardee Lifeline offers free installations for the month of July

(Hendersonville, NC) Pardee Lifeline, a system that summons help immediately at the touch of a button, is offering free installations during the month of July.

The service is ideal for those with high-risk medical conditions, chronic illnesses or individuals with limited mobility. Lifeline offers other services as well, such as a speakerphone function allowing individuals to answer the telephone without using a handheld receiver and the ability to leave reminders of important things to do throughout the day.

Lifeline operators are available to answer questions or provide assistance 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Lifeline also retains pertinent health history and information on who to contact in the case of an emergency, when an individual is unable to provide this information.

“Lifeline’s personal medical alert service and equipment options make it easy to select the safety and convenience features that work best for you and your family,” said Ron Comeens, Lifeline coordinator for Pardee Hospital.

Subscription to this service is available for a low monthly fee, based on the types of options selected. There are no long term contracts. Lifeline units are maintained by Pardee Hospital. For more information about Lifeline, call 828-692-9061.
