Pardee Pain Center to open in September

(Hendersonville, N.C.) Pardee Hospital will open the Pardee Pain Center this September, to serve patients in the community with chronic pain. The Pardee Pain Center will be open from 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m., on Thursdays and Fridays. Patients will be seen by appointment with a physician referral only. The center will be located on the ground floor of the hospital near the Garden Café on Fleming St.

“The Pardee Pain Center will truly be an asset to the community and I am thrilled to be a part of this new center. We will provide advanced pain management to our patients with the high quality of care you have come to expect from Pardee,” said Edward Lewis, M.D., medical director, Pardee Pain Center.

The Pardee Pain Center will provide comprehensive pain management including diagnostic therapy, X-ray guided diagnostic and therapeutic injections, minimally invasive disc decompression procedures, surgical implementation of spinal cord stimulators and intrathecal pain pumps.
